

From AI to Horse-Drawn Wagon

In the early 19th century, very few people could have imagined a time when horse-drawn transportation would come to an end. But in the end, it did, once the infrastructure was available for automobiles and the cost to own a gas-powered vehicle became affordable for the average household. So, by the mid-20th century, horse-drawn wagons were a thing of the past as the world transitioned to new modes of transportation.

But we have it on good authority that even at a time when AI technology is accelerating, the world's present system of transportation could grind to a halt and not be replaced with a newer, more efficient one. This might occur if our infrastructure were severely damaged, as it appears to be in the following prophecies that may come to fruition in our lifetime. The scenario is post-apocalyptic, and many survivors are being transported to the Middle East using 19th century technology.

For behold, the Lord will come with fire and with His chariots, like a whirlwind, to render His anger with fury, and His rebuke with flames of fire. For by fire and by His sword the Lord will judge all flesh; and the slain of the Lord shall be many (Isaiah 66:15-16; NKJV used throughout unless otherwise noted).

Then they shall bring all your brethren for an offering to the Lord out of all nations, on horses and in chariots (SHD 7393; two-wheeled wagons, cf. Ezekiel 23:24) and in litters (SHD 6632; four-wheeled carts/covered wagons, cf. Numbers 7:3), on mules and on camels, to My holy mountain Jerusalem... (Isaiah 66:20).

This future cataclysm is the direct result of a universal acceptance of lawless behavior. Therefore, it is no coincidence that Isaiah's prophecies begin by describing a time when many nations will be recovering and grouping in the Middle East (cf. Isaiah 2:2-4), and his last writings end by describing the same scenario.

What is important to remember is that this could have been avoided if the twelve families of Jacob had fulfilled the job they were given, per the following link:

Because the descendants of Jacob failed to properly represent Almighty God, by teaching all nations about His laws and commandments, this reconstituted nation will be the first to receive instruction from a faithful and obedient representative who did not fail to fulfill the commission he was given (cf. Isaiah 9:6).

Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations; proclaim, give praise, and say, 'O Lord, save Your people, the remnant of Israel!' Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the ends of the earth, among them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and the one who labors with child, together; a great throng shall return there. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications I will lead them to walk by the rivers of waters (symbolizing the restorative actions of God's Holy Spirit; cf. John 4:10-14, Revelation 22:1), in a straight way in which they shall not stumble (cf. Matthew 7:14); for I am a Father to Israel, and Ephraim is My firstborn (Jeremiah 31:7-9; cf. 16:15-18; Zephaniah 3:10-13; Ed. notes in parentheses; emphasis added).

Note: the descendants of Ephraim are not the Jewish people, per the following link:

This nation, consisting of twelve different families, can only be reconstituted and restored in their relationship with Almighty God due to the action of an individual who made this possible.

Can a woman forget her nursing child, and not have compassion on the son of her womb? Surely they may forget, yet I will not forget you. See, I have inscribed you on the palms of my hands... (Isaiah 49:15-16; emphasis added).

Then Christ said to Thomas, "Reach your finger here, and look at (the palms) of my hands... (John 20:27; Ed. note in parenthesis; emphasis added).

So, it is through the shed blood of a sinless substitutionary sacrifice (Christ/Messiah) that Jacob's descendants can be forgiven and then equipped to fulfill their original commission of teaching all nations about God's system of governance. The following link expands on this:

Although returning to a 19th century system of transportation may sound negative, it is associated with a renaissance the likes of which the world has never seen. Per this final link, it will be a time of peace, prosperity, and joy for mankind that will be uninterrupted for a thousand years (cf. Revelation 20:1-3):
